About Leigh-Anne:

I'm a love, sex + relationship coach based out of LA with 10+ years of experience as a psychologist.

I am passionate about healing the relationship between men + women, and specialize in conscious relationships, masculine/feminine polarity, sacred union, and spiritual partnership.

I am an advocate of men's work (ask me why) and believe that men's and women's work needs to happen side by side to heal the gender divide.

I believe that in order for men to thrive, they need:

- 1) a brotherhood of conscious men around them to support and uplift them, and
- 2) an awakened woman to be their mirror, oracle, and devoted soulmate in divine union.

If you do not have an awakened woman who can help guide you with love + devotion, then please reach out to me. I work with men 1:1 provide the field of awakened feminine energy that is a required part of the equation.

I can help you fully step in to the highest level of integrity, truth + honor, to become a man of high caliber that is desperately needed at this time.

If you are there already, but haven't yet attracted your woman, I can show you why + help you make the adjustments necessary to call her in. Book a complementary session here.
